

The options [left] and [right] are shuffled once for each game.

Each trial starts with a counter indicating the current trial of all trials in the present game.

Once a fixation cross is shown, participants can select an option by clicking [left] or [right] on the keyboard.]

Participants are provided with the outcome of their choice. Could also be a distractor trial, where participants need to press [space] as quickly as possible.

Once all trials of the present game have been finished, the overall earnings are displayed.

Lastly, participants are asked, which option they deemed more profitable.
